Gov. Perdue appoints Baker to N.C. Museum of History board of directors

Gov. Beverly Perdue appointed Paul Baker to the board of directors for the North Carolina Museum of History effective January 1, 2010. Baker is dean of Saint Augustine's College's Division of Social Sciences. He's been at the College since 2005.

As a member of the board, Baker will oversee museum initiatives, exhibitions, corporate and private funding/philanthropy and serve as a museum liaison to the North Carolina General Assembly. The appointment is for two years.

Baker is also a member of the Raleigh City Museum's board of directors.
